F. L. Woodward went to Kansas City last week to attend the wedding of his sister. He got to the house about twenty minutes after the ceremony but was in plenty of time for the dinner.

OYSTER SUPPER.

Mrs. Viola Norfleet and Mrs. Fannie Fairbank will give an oyster supper at Mrs. Fairbank's millinery parlor next Friday night—Christmas eve. Everybody is invited.

THE ADVERTISER editor visited Auburn Monday and Brownville Tuesday, attended a wedding Wednesday and the infair Thursday, so if there are any unusual deficiencies in the paper they can certainly be excused.

Walter Hadlock hitched on to his "snow plow" Monday morning and broke a road from the home of every school child in town to the school house, for which he has the thanks of both children and parents.

A pig ran against Mart May Sunday, and so badly bruised one of Mart's legs that he has been very lame ever since. He feels like a pile driver had struck him, he says. We have not interviewed the pig as to his feelings.

 HARRY McCANDLESS.

HOWE-RUSSELL.

Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, three and one-half miles southwest of Nemaha, Wednesday, December 22nd, 1897, at 12 o'clock noon, Mr. Charley Howe and Miss Minnie Russell.

Promptly at 12 o'clock a wedding march was played by Mrs. Dr. Hull, of Stella, and the bride and groom proceeded to the parlor, where, in the midst of assembled relatives and friends, Rev. C. H. Gilmore in a few brief sentences pronounced the ceremony that united them as husband and wife. After the young couple had received the congratulations and sincere well wishes of their friends, those present were invited to the dining room, where the tables groaned beneath the feast of good things—a banquet fit for a president, prince or potentate—fit for the occasion to which the guests had been invited—and full justice was done.

The bride and groom have passed all their lives in this vicinity, and have earned the love and respect of so large a number of our citizens that it might be said their friends are numbered by their acquaintances. Charley Howe is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Howe. He graduated from the Nemaha school three years ago last June and since that time has spent two years in the Peru Normal school. He is an exemplary young man and is deserving of his good fortune in winning the bride he has chosen. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Russell. She is one of our best young ladies, and well fitted in every respect to make a happy home for her chosen companion for life. May their life together be one of happiness and prosperity.

Brownville,

Nebraska.

The infair dinner was given Thursday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Howe. The dinner was a feast of good things. About forty guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Howe thoroughly understand the art of entertaining, and Mrs. Howe certainly is one of the best cooks anywhere, as all the guests will testify. Mr. and Mrs. Charley Howe will stay at Seymour Howe's until the first of March, when they will move on the old Hagadorn farm, northeast of town, and begin housekeeping.

The merchants at Auburn, Brownville and Shubert report the best trade they have had for years. They advertise.

According to the almanac winter began Tuesday. According to the best of our knowledge and belief, based on practical experience, winter really began at least three weeks before that time and has continued steadily and continuously up to the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Argabright are rejoicing over the birth of a dainty little girl. The little miss arrived last Friday, Dec. 17th, and Grandpa Chamberlain says she is the prettiest and sweetest baby in the whole country, and "Pa" emphatically endorses this opinion.

The musical entertainment at the Methodist church last Saturday night was excellent. The recitations by Misses Flo and Mellinger Minick and Mrs. Earle Gilbert were fine, and the duets by Miss Maud Minick and John Dorram, "Six months before marriage" and "Six months after marriage," and the quartets by Misses Maud and Mellinger Minick, John Dorram and Cyrus Minick, "The Book Agent," were worth more than the price of admission.

BURLINGTON ROUTE—CALIFORNIA EXCURSIONS.

Cheap; quick; comfortable.
 Leave Omaha 4:35 p. m., Lincoln 6:10 p. m. and Hastings 8:50 p. m. every Thursday in clean, modern, not crowded tourist sleepers. No transfer; cars run right through to San Francisco and Los Angeles over the Scenic Route—through Denver and Salt Lake City. Cars are carpeted; upholstered in rattan; have spring seats and backs and are provided with curtains, bedding, towels, soap, etc. Uniformed porters and experienced excursion conductors accompany each excursion, relieving passengers of all bother about baggage, pointing out objects of interest and in many other ways helping to make the overland trip a delightful experience. Second class tickets are honored. Berths $5.

For folder giving full information, call at nearest Burlington Route ticket office, or write to J. Francis, General Passenger Agent, Omaha, Nebr.

The "Bicyclist's Best Friend" is a familiar name for DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, always ready for emergencies. While a specific for piles, it also instantly relieves and cures cuts, bruises, salt rheum, eczema and all affections of the skin. It never fails. M. H. Taylor.

Ripans Tabules.

For a number of years Lew Mather has suffered at intervals with something like a white swelling on one leg. For several weeks he has been confined to his bed and suffering severely. Last Friday Dr. J. L. Melvin, assisted by Dr. Sutton, of Shubert, performed an operation on the diseased limb. A considerable amount of pus was taken out, which will greatly relieve the patient. A cure cannot be effected, however, as the bone is diseased. Mr. Mather is getting along very well since the operation.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sampson, Monday, December 20th, 1897, a fine son. Of course Bob feels proud and happy, but not more so than do Grandpa and Grandma Frost, as this is their first grandson. The young gentleman has been named William Leavitt.

THIS IS NO JOKE.

Kind friends and patrons: This is the close of 1897, and I have carried you for a year. In order to meet my bills I must have what is due me.

Truly yours,

M. H. TAYLOR.
